THE ARTWORK

A sensory path, a narration made by sound and visual effects, that plugs into the dark and rumbling space of the Bombi gallery: Insight is a public art installation based on the perceptual stimuli of light art and sound art.

The artwork made by Joshua Cesa (with sound curated by Alessio Sorato and Lorena Cantarut) consists of many 'sensory stations'. Each of them, through the stimulation of the senses and the reproduction of the auditory impressions of the First World War, tells the human experiential spectrum of the conflict.

Inspired by many literary testimonies from the period 1914-16, the work helps investigating the individual and collective memory of the World Wars, involving the visitors in a real intimate and deep experience of our collective history, through senses.
